GPX DEBUTS CORNUCOPIA OF COOL AND AFFORDABLE AV CONSUMER ELECTRONICS AT CES 2007

Booth #10436 Filled with a Dozen Products for Home, Office and the Road

St. Louis, Missouri – January 8, 2007 - GPX, a premier designer and manufacturer of the consumer electronics industry's most popular and feature-driven audio and video products and brand division of Digital Products International. (DPI, Inc), today announced its product line-up debuting at this week's 2007 International Consumer Electronics Show (CES). The company's booth in Las Vegas will be showcasing the latest in audio video, performance products created for the family, the home, and the office, as well as portables for personal use, and fun.

"We have come to this show with a great selection of diverse and new products," said Bill Fetter, CEO of DPI, Inc. "GPX has focused on customer demand and market trends to define a whole new level of superior performance, key features, and the best value available."

For the person who believes they already have everything electronic, GPX introduces two new Digital Photo Frames. Designed to sit on a desk or table, the unit displays digital slide shows, time, or calendar, surrounded by any of its three interchangeable frames. For total functionality and multiple uses, the Digital Photo Frame comes equipped for 16MB of internal memory, multi-card slot, remote control, MP3, MP4, and WMA playback. Retailing for $99.99 and $169.99, the PF707 and the PF907 have a built-in clock alarm and can be used in portrait or landscape modes.

MP3

The new CES line from GPX offers the latest in music-driven, portable electronics starting with two MP3 additions - the MW33X7 and MW38X7. Both products are MP3/WMA™ and DRM 10 compliant, have ear buds included, and are offered as 512M, 1G, or 2G players. The handheld units are both packed with a slew of the most requested sound features.

Portable CD

In addition to the MP3 lineup, GPX is also debuting two new, value portable CD players. Both the CDP1807 at $9.99 and the CDP3107 retailing for $14.99 have 6-digit displays, rotary volume control and stereo ear buds. The two handheld devices are also track programmable and come equipped with bass boost for enhanced sound. The CDP3107 is equipped with 60 second skip protection and both products will be available in early April.

Home Entertainment Systems

GPX is also showing off innovative, practical products for use in the home or office. The HM3817DT product is a stylish and fully-functional home entertainment sound system retailing for $39.99. The unit comes with a CD player with a motorized door, digitally tuned AM/FM radios, 4 preset EQ, line in, clock, and full-function remote controls. The unit can be displayed on the table top stand or wall mounted.

DVD Player

For at-home viewing the D2817 from GPX offers a complete selection-set of the most desired features for a DVD player system. The slim-drawer-load DVD has a built-in VFD display and an easy-to-use, full-featured remote control. The unit plays and displays all DVD/CD/CDR/CDRW and JPEG materials. Retailing for only $34.99, the D2817 is easy to use and set up. The unit has composite output, progressive scan, component video output (Y, Pb, Pr), and s-video and coaxial digital output.

Clock Radios

For anyone wanting to wake up to their favorite tunes or talk show, GPX is introducing a pair of gift-priced clock radios. The CR1807 at $7.99 and the CR2807 for $14.99 are the perfect answer for the kids' rooms, guest rooms, and savvy gift giving. Both units are single alarm and have AM/FM radio, snooze buttons, music or alarm wake-ups, and are AC with 9-volt battery back-ups. The feature-driven CR2807 also includes a soft-light, 1.8" green LED clock face while the CR1807 has the 0.6 red LED display.

Fun Karaoke

For home or office party fun nothing can beat the instant family- or team-building sensation of karaoke! The two GPX systems being introduced at this year's CES, the K1007 ($39.99) and the C1490, both pack fun, technology and features into affordable, quality sets. AT $69.99, the C1490 also includes a professional-feel, 5-inch, black and white monitor for built-in lyric display. For home and office ergonomics the C1490 is also housed in its own contemporary-styled, wooden cabinet. Both units have top-load CD+G, automatic voice control, built-in microphone holders, omni directional microphones, and dual microphone jacks for fabulous duets.

About GPX and DPI, Inc.
